ICED CONFERENCE SERIES:

What You Need to Know about the Family and Medical Leave Act

Program: Courtney O'Connell, DCMS Personnel Counsel, will address employee rights and employer responsibilities in regards to family/medical leave. You will have an opportunity to ask questions.

When: May 27, 2009
12:00 Noon to 2:00 p.m.

Where: 130 W. Mason, Lower Level Conference Room, Springfield
JRTC, 100 W. Randolph, Room 9-040, Chicago

How: *Attend in Person
*Call in: 1-877-336-1828, access code, 3027383
*Use the Internet, <http://www.state.il.us/iced>, select "View Seminar"

Why: Over the course of your career, you may need to use medical leave for yourself or a family member. Or, as a state employee, you may be called on to implement or explain the family/medical leave requirements for your agency staff. You should attend this program to find out about your rights and responsibilities. Learn the facts before you or someone you supervise begins missing work for a reason covered by the Family and Medical Leave Act. Ms. O'Connell is an expert on this difficult subject. She will respond to any questions you have, time permitting.

Other Info: There is no fee or registration required. Captioning will be provided. If you need a sign language interpreter or other accommodation to participate in the program, please call Susan Allen, at (217) 785-5119 (Voice) or (217) 785-5125 (TTY), or e-mail her at Susan.Allen@Illinois.gov, by May 13, 2009.
